

New Downloads Section Live

After a couple months of not much work on the site, we're gonna kick it back into gear. First up, at the request of an OT list member, we've added a downloads section for sharing non image files. Do you create measured plans that you'd like to share? Requires a login to upload so if you have not yet registered (still FREE!), you'll need to do that.

Registered users can also upload images and can have their own blog section without any additional setup.

Enjoy!!
